Did You Know?

The Centers for Disease Control recently recommended that all patients be tested for HIV if they are between the ages of 13 and 64. A major reason for this is that as many as 25% of those who are HIV+ do not know they are infected and may be unknowingly spreading the virus.

HIV/AIDS Advocacy Services Welcomes a New Intern

Sarah Young is beginning her first semester as an MSW intern with Ken Pape and the HIV/AIDS Advocacy Services team. Sarah is from Cortland, New York and received her Bachelor's Degree in Social Work from Syracuse University in 2004. Following graduation she worked in London, England as a child welfare caseworker. Sarah has worked extensively in the HIV community, including spending a summer in Kingston, Jamaica promoting HIV education among youth, working at a nutrition and counseling support center for PLWHA, and publishing her thesis on issues of parenting in the HIV community. She anticipates having a career in the HIV/AIDS field and ideally would like to continue living and working in the Detroit area.

Food Pantry Resource

Do your clients ever go hungry?

Do your clients ever need to locate a food pantry?

If so, the following website may be helpful for Case Managers:

www.PantryNet.org

- Zip Code Directory section allows a search within a certain zip code or within a certain radius (i.e. please find me all food pantries within a 10 mile radius from zip code 48201)
- National Chat Room section allows service providers to dialogue about issues of hunger and food insufficiency
- Pantry Net College section has articles posted (including articles about food safety that may be especially relevant for PLWHA)
- Recipes section has quick and nutritious recipes that can be made from common food pantry items

Thanksgiving Food Safety

People living with HIV/AIDS need to take special care in preparing food to avoid contamination and ensure all food (especially meat) is cooked properly. Here are some tips to ensure a properly cooked Thanksgiving turkey:

1. Thaw the turkey in a refrigerator (24 hours per every 5 pounds). You can also thaw a turkey in the microwave or in cold water (check website below for further guidance) but thawing a turkey at room temperature is NOT recommended for risk of contamination.
2. Wash hands thoroughly and clean all utensils that have touched the raw turkey.
3. Cook the turkey as per directions (or check website below for further guidance). Use a meat thermometer to ensure that the inside of the turkey has reached at least 165 °F.
4. Leftovers should be carved from the turkey and refrigerated within two hours of taking the turkey out of the oven. Leftover turkey should only be kept for three days in the refrigerator.
